In 1988, M Lib I Sc course was started to give the students specialized Knowledge of the vital role of Information as an input and to impart them necessary skill in designing, operating and managing Information system.

In view of the emerging networked environment and paradigm shift in the goals of the library, and in view of the Changes in Information storage and delivery mechanism, the School retrained its syllabus on the basis of the UGC model curriculum.

Research guidance at the level of the Ph D is provided. The School has a well equipped computer laboratory for imparting practical knowledge of the students. Presently 14 scholars have been awarded with Ph D degree, and the research works of 14 scholars in progress.
